

Christ, our paschal lamb, has been sacrificed; let us then feast with joy in the Lord.

Cristo, nuestro cordero pascual, ha sido inmolado; celebremos, pues, la Pascua.

ALLELUIA!

Today's gospel reading is one that never grows old or boring for me, because it is a story of such sharp contrasts. Dark becomes light; weeping turns to joy; despair changes into hope. If I were to sum up Easter in one word, it would be "transformation." Just think about the disciples. In the weeks and months after the resurrection, they found themselves doing things they could never have imagined. Take Peter in today's first reading: he was the one who a few days earlier had denied even knowing Jesus and was now fearlessly proclaiming his lordship. For all the disciples, life would never be the same again. Their encounter with the risen Christ had changed them forever.

Each time we gather to celebrate the Eucharist, Jesus is in our midst, just as surely as he was for Mary Magdalene and the disciples on that first Easter morning. Our faith in the real presence assures us of this. And just as their encounter with the risen Lord changed the disciples' lives forever, we too should never leave any celebration of the Eucharist unchanged. We receive his Body and Blood so that, nourished and transformed, we can go forth to love and serve the lord and one another. Alleluia! Alleluia!
